At the annual meeting of the directors of the Citizens National Bank held Tuesday, January 11, John H. Lamb, for the past 11 years president of the bank, was named chairman of the board of directors, and in his place George R. Balph was named president. Mr. Balph has served as executive vice president for a number of years.

Mr. Lamb, who relinquishes the exacting duties of president of the Citizens National Bank, has been associated with it for approximately 40 years. The bank was organized in 1891 by the late Thomas W. Phillips, Sr., and several years later Mr. Lamb came to New Castle from Franklin, Pa., where he was engaged

One of the slipperiest spots in town, and one that has fooled lots of motorists this winter, is the curve where Wilmington avenue joins North Jefferson street. More than one motorist, trying to round the curve at too high a rate of speed when the streets are slippery has come to grief there.

We saw a battle of snow-balls last evening on the East Side, between boys and girls. The girls were located in Jackson Park, and the boys were across the street. What interested us very much was the degree of accuracy with which the girls were able to direct their shots; we saw several "direct hits". One of the girls threw the balls over the "pan" a la Walter Johnson.

Somebody must have needed a nickel badly last evening, because the small glass in a parking meter was broken, on East Washington street.

The young folks of the East Side, close in, are wondering why hasn't the idea been promulgated, of flooding Dean Park, which when frozen over, would furnish ample skating space for a large amount of skaters. The park is in the center of a large population, and would doubtless be patronized by large crowds.

Engineer Is Badly Burned

Chas. M. Thompson Accident Victim Near Ravenna, Ohio, This Morning

FIREMAN ESCAPES
SERIOUS INJURY

A New Castle Pennsylvania railroad freight locomotive engineer today lies in a critical condition in the south side unit of the Youngstown hospital, fighting death from severe burns suffered in an explosion on his engine in the Ravenna, O., vicinity this morning around seven o'clock.

The engineer is Charles M. Thompson of 921 Marshall avenue. He was at the throttle of GL-1, the Pennsy's Pittsburgh-to-Cleveland miscellaneous freight express.

Thompson's fireman, John C. Hull, a Vienna, O., man, who rooms at 1005 Hough avenue, Youngstown, escaped the scalding steam which sent Thompson to the hospital.

Chance for Recovery
Erie & Ashtabula division offices, informed of the accident soon after it happened, reported that company surgeons believe that Mr. Thompson "has a chance" of recovering. He suffered severe burns as the scalding steam showered him in the explosion, the nature of which had not been definitely established here.

The train was heading towards Cleveland at the time, railroad officials reported, and Engineer Thompson succeeded in bringing it to a halt. Fireman Hull, it is believed, escaped serious burns by jumping.

Regarded As Preliminary To Discussion Of Possible SWOC Contract Renewal

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Despite denials, reports persisted today that John L. Lewis, head of the CIO, met here today with Tom Moses, vice president of United States Steel corporation.

It was regarded in steel and labor circles here today as a preliminary get-together to discuss informally the possible renewal of the present SWOC contract.

Lewis and Moses, it was believed here, were getting together as "John" and "Tom" to discuss very informally some of the things that might be included in a new contract to replace the one expiring March 1. Formal negotiations are not scheduled to begin until February 7, according to terms of the present contract.

South Side Board of Trade members gathered in the attractively arranged dining room of the Central Christian church, corner Pennsylvania and East Long avenues, Tuesday evening, for their annual banquet and election of officers. Approximately 50 persons attended the delightful event.

President Harry Clark opened the program with a few brief remarks after which he introduced Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the Central Christian church, who delivered a comprehensive address on "Community Spirit." The speaker cited the fact that there are too many down-trodden persons in New Castle. "Conditions here are just as good as any city the size of New Castle. Every town has its ups and downs," Rev. Shearer stated. He closed by thanking the organization for sponsoring a movement which gave the south side Christmas lights.

Mr. Clark presented Mayor Charles McGrath, who spoke about co-operation and confidence. He said these two things are important in a community.

Mayor And Police Chief Issue
Drastic Order To Dog Owners

Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell today ordered owners to keep their dogs tied up, otherwise the dogs will be shot.

The order was issued this morning because of the discovery of rabies-infected dogs and attacks upon humans and other dogs.

State Agent Goshing, who has charge of the dog situation for the state department of animal husbandry was expected here again today.

Early this morning police were sent in cruiser cars to different sections. They were armed with shotguns and authorized to shoot dogs running at large.

If a dog is not worth taking care of the owner should get rid of the dog, Mayor McGrath stated.

Late last night John G. Shuts, 829 Lathrop street, said his dog, which was tied, had been attacked by a stray dog.

Police were called and shot the stray dog.

When the latest reports on the dog situation reached the mayor and police chief early this morning they ordered police to act.

(International News Service)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 12.—Musa Shalabi, alien Arabian wanted in Miami for the "yacht murder" of Arthur Lawrence, was arrested here last night, Federal agents revealed today.

The suspect was seized aboard a bus bound from Miami to Atlanta, Ga.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 12.—Search was pressed today for an Arabian seaman in the bizarre murder of Arthur Lawrence, wealthy Pittsburgher, aboard his yacht here.

Musa Shalabi, the Arabian, was last seen in company of Lawrence on the yacht, The Scouter. A general alarm was broadcast for his arrest.

Customs officers discovered the crime when they boarded The Scouter to check up on Shalabi, who had been denied admittance to this country.

Shot Three Times

They found Lawrence, who was 42, dead in his cabin with three bullets in his body.

He had been shot in the neck and left shoulder and behind the right ear.

There was evidence the ship's master had put up a desperate battle for his life. Furniture was slashed and the coverings had been torn from the berth in which his body was found.

Singular circumstances surrounded the slaying.

Lawrence arrived in Miami aboard The Scouter last week from Havana. Questioned about Shalabi at that time, he told customs officers he had picked him up in Havana and allowed him to work his way to Miami.

Waved Revolver
Shalabi told the officials he had served in the United States army and supposed this made him a citizen.

When Lawrence was told he would be held responsible for Shalabi's return to Havana, customs men said the ship's master waved a 38 revolver under Shalabi's nose and said: "I'll take care of him."

Investigators said The Scouter left Miami in October, 1936, after Lawrence told waterfront habitués he had married a wealthy Cincinnati woman and they were bound for the West Indies.

Japanese Charge
Nations Aid China

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 12.—Three thousand American and German trucks are being assembled at Hong Kong for delivery to the Chinese forces resisting Japan, Japanese authorities charged today.

Angry Japanese officials also claimed that a half million tons of munitions already have been transported from Hong Kong, British crown colony and naval base, to the huge southern port of Canton over a newly-built highway.

These charges were the latest developments in the verbal battle that Nippon is waging with nations she accuses of aiding China.

Odd Condition
Oddly enough, since Germany is an anti-communist ally of Japan, Tokyo government officials and Japanese militarists here frequently have accused the Reich of aiding the Chinese military forces.

In the past they have charged that German staff officers are aiding the Chinese.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Pan-American officials disclosed for the first time here today that the missing Samoan clipper actually passed over Apia harbor, 74 miles west of Pago Pago, while attempting to get safely back to its Samoan base after one of its four motors sprung an oil leak.

Company officials further disclosed that a message had been received from the clipper, advising that it was dumping its excess gasoline over Apia harbor before returning to Pago Pago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—The vast Pacific, jealous guardian of many aviation tragedies, clung to a new secret today—the fate of the Samoan Clipper, missing in the south Pacific near Samoa.

Seven men, all members of the crew, were aboard the ship.

Despite long hours of tense anxiety since 12:37 p. m. (PST) yesterday when the last radio signal was heard from the 19-ton Pan American Airways' newest flying boat, PAA officials felt confident that Capt. Edwin C. Musick, topnotch skipper of the plane, had made a safe landing in the Atoll-dotted tropical waters.

They banked heavily on Musick's unexcelled record—a spotless career of 1,500,000 flying miles in which he encountered no serious mishap.

Watchful Waiting
While hour after hour dragged by, the big clock in Pan America's offices here seemed to tick louder than usual. It was the tense silence that created the impression. The corps of reporters at PAA's headquarters broke the silence every now and then with inquiries, all of which asked:

"Any news?"

Officials merely nodded their heads negatively.

Throughout the early morning hours, the watchful waiting was punctuated with false hope of several unconfirmed reports.

Would Give President New Power

House Acts On New Provision

Sends Measure To Senate, Providing Power To Slash Appropriations

CONGRESS WOULD HAVE VETO POWER

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A new economy plan, under which President Roosevelt would be given virtually blanket power to slash appropriations subject to congressional veto, was sent to the senate by the house today.

The authority was conferred under a rider to the $1,500,000,000 independent offices supply bill passed by the house yesterday. In effect, the rider proposed by Rep. Woodrum (D) of Virginia, would give the president "item veto" power. Similar authority is asked in constitutional amendment resolutions pending in both the senate and house.

House Taken By Surprise.
The house, caught by surprise and with but a handful of members present, adopted the rider by a voice vote and with only a few protests. The provision, however, may become a major issue in the senate on the ground it is a new surrender of congressional power to the chief executive.

President Roosevelt asked for such authority in his budget message, in which he estimated a deficit of $950,000,000 next year. Under terms of the rider he could either eliminate or reduce governmental activities to reduce the deficit still further.

Amendment Provides.
The amendment provides:

"The president is authorized to eliminate or reduce by executive order, in whole or in part, any appropriation or appropriations made by this act, or any other act or joint resolution, whenever after investigation, we shall find and declare that such action will aid in balancing the budget or in reducing the public debt and that the public interest will be served thereby."

Further provisions require submission of the executive order to congress while it is in session and provides that the order cannot be effective for 60 days unless by congressional action. According to sponsors of the plan, it would give congress veto power over all reductions made by the president.

PACIFIC HOLDS SECRET OF FATE OF CLIPPER SHIP

don, declared the clipper had been found adrift near Apia, 74 miles west of Pago Pago, the south sea base from which the big flying boat took off at 9:37 a. m. (PST) yesterday for Auckland, N. Z.

Clarence M. Young, manager of the Pacific division of Pan American, took occasion to issue an announcement following this report.

No Definite News
The announcement declared that no definite news had been received from the clipper since 12:37 p. m. yesterday. And at that hour yesterday only the radio directional beam buzz was heard from the plane. Then it abruptly stopped, indicating that the plane had landed on the water.

Pan America's powerful radio station at Alameda airport, the main land terminus of the airways far flung Pacific routes, was tuned constantly to the Samoan clipper's sending frequency of 1680 kilocycles. Not even a faint buzz trickled across the ocean. At Auckland, and at Pago Pago, PAA's radio stations there also were tuned to the missing clipper's frequency. But those stations too had nothing to report.

Unconfirmed Reports
The series of unconfirmed reports, particularly the London report, seemed to fade in significance when it was obvious that PAA had better communication facilities to the south seas than any British agency.

Among the unconfirmed reports was one that a native had seen smoke spiraling from a plane as it landed near Apia. This report, of which Pan American officials could obtain no confirmation despite careful checking and re-checking, was the source of wide speculation.

The native's unsubstantiated report and the fact that the clipper's trouble was occasioned by "an apparent oil leak" in one of its four motors, were pieced together to create the possibility that the clipper caught fire and went down in flames.

To such speculation, Pan American officials pointed out that each of the plane's four motors was equipped with an automatic fire extinguisher which could be switched on in an instant.

But as each report was circulated, PAA officials thoroughly checked it. They sifted fact from rumor and following a routine report from the Pago Pago base today, the following facts were the only definite information that remained uncontradicted:

JOHN H. LAMB RETIRES AS ACTIVE BANK PRESIDENT

In the banking business. The late David Jameson succeeded Mr. Phillips as president and in 1927 following the death of Mr. Jameson, Mr. Lamb was named president.

Wide Experience

His experience in banking has been a wide one. Starting as a teller, he came up through the cashiering to the presidency and is recognized throughout Pennsylvania as a sound banker and a man of keen business acumen. His hand has guided the bank through the seas of economic success and depression and the sound financial position of the bank today is due in a large measure to his leadership and judgment. While he leaves the presidency, his counsel and advice will be available to the bank as chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Ralph, the new president, has had nearly as much service with the Citizens National Bank as has Mr. Lamb. Thirty-five years ago Mr. Ralph started as a teller. He also served as cashier and some years ago was made executive vice president. Like his worthy predecessors he is a banker of ability and under his leadership as president the same sound policies that have marked the bank's career will be continued.

Other officers named on Tuesday were Frank S. Hoyt, vice president; John J. Maher, cashier, and H. C. Dinsmore, assistant cashier. All directors were re-elected. They are Frank S. Hoyt, John H. Lamb, George R. Balph, William B. Howe, P. J. Flaherty, H. G. Preston, John P. Lockhart, Fred L. Rentz, E. J. McCreery, B. D. Phillips.

JAPANESE CHARGE NATIONS AID CHINA

vising Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and have even brought diplomatic pressure to have these officers withdrawn. Today, however, was the first time that Germany has been accused openly of lending China material assistance.

The charges against America also increased the Japanese-American friction that flared so high at the time of the bombing of the United States gunboat Panay and three other American vessels by Japanese planes on the Yangtze river. Whether today's charges would become a matter for diplomatic representation was a question of keen speculation.

Chinese Retreat
Meanwhile, at Hankow, Chinese government officials finally admitted that the Chinese defenders of Tsinling were withdrawn yesterday afternoon. The retreat was staged, according to the Chinese, after a fierce battle in which the Japanese attacking forces used tanks and heavy artillery.

The Chinese defeat at Tsinling opens the way for a Japanese assault against and capture of the vital Lushan railway, "Life-Line" of China because of its strategic position in connecting the seacoast with the central part of the interior.

Reports from Hong Kong stated that Japanese air raiders had been extremely active in South China, heavily bombing Chingyuan, Fokong, Yingtou, Yuentan, Tungken and other points.

One Japanese plane was shot down at Pakong. Civilian Chinese casualties at Tungken were described as extremely heavy.

Canton was said to have escaped the brunt of the aerial attack, although the nearby Boccatigris forts were raided without damage.

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musteroie—aching, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musteroie has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Happenings And Items Of Interest At Big Tin Plate Plants Here.

Why the Power and Labor Departments are Important in the Manufacture of Tin Plate—John Loudon. By J. E. Patton, Lyle Hinebaugh and J. W. Conway.

We have been reading the Carnegie-Illinois Steel News with interest and have noted there are a lot of important departments mentioned.

The Shenango Works boiler house silently produces steam day in and day out the year around without any pause for rest except during an emergency when the trained boiler house organization automatically takes care of the situation. On plant inspection one very seldom sees the "smoky city," namely, the boiler house.

During the year 1937 these boilers evaporated over one billion two hundred fifty million pounds of water, burning approximately eighty thousand tons of coal and producing over sixteen and one-half million kilowatt hours of electricity.

The evaporated water, so called steam, is used to operate the power house turbo electric generator, the hot mill engines, picklers, cold roll engines, tin house and for heating purposes. The electricity produced is used for lighting, motors and electric crane operation.

A boiler house in any plant is the same as the heart is to the human body. When your heart stops, you stop, and when the boiler house stops the plant stops. While we feel that perhaps this is not the most important department, nevertheless it is a very important operation in the manufacture of tin plate. The boiler department employs approximately 33 men, and has an enviable safety record of 2463 consecutive safe days without a lost time accident. This record alone bespeaks the "safety-mindedness" of this department.

John Loudon, chief electrician, has the following to say for the electrical department. If the furnace is charged with bar to roll, it could heat the bar—if it had the coal. To get the coal and to get the bar requires the "fluid" of the Leyden Jar.

The above "fluid" is the one referred to in the question, "Is the juice on?" The work of the electrical department is to keep the "juice" on the job.

Our generating equipment consists of one steam unit and one diesel generator set. Each unit has a capacity of 1500 KVA at 250 volts D. C. The motor generator set is in service when it is necessary to make repairs on the steam unit. Under normal operations we use well over one million kilowatt hours per month. About one-third of this monthly consumption comes from a 230 volt A. C. load taken directly from our transformers.

For the handling of equipment and product we have thirteen cranes, thirty-four tractors, four Ready-power units and two Tow-motors. The motors in the plant are over one thousand and range in size from 1-70 horsepower to 150 horsepower.

Lighting consists of Mazda lamps at 230 volts except in the assorting department where units are Cooper Hewitt mercury lamps—110 volts, two lights in series on 230 volts D. C. On an average we use 1000 lamps per month, the smallest 25 watts and the largest 1000 watts. The number of Cooper-Hewitts in service is about 200.

The electrical department employs about 50 men, and they have a very fine safety record of 296 consecutive days without a lost time accident. This is an outstanding safety record when considering the type of work these men are called upon to do—their duties taking them into all parts of the plant—on the ground and on the roof.

The general labor department, headed by J. W. Conway, believes it is one of the important spokes in the great industrial wheel of Shenango Works, and justly so. They help to maintain and keep the wheels going by unloading materials, care of railroad tracks, sewers, walks, floors, digging of excavations and all kinds of concrete and construction work. Like other maintenance departments, its duties take it to all parts of the plant—underground, on the ground and on roofs, and it is interesting to note that, regardless of the numerous hazards involved, it has completed 679 consecutive days without a lost time accident. They are always on the job and do their work with a smile.

SAFETY

Shenango Works had 22 lost time accidents for the year 1937, and while we admit those are too many accidents, yet it is most gratifying to know all were of a minor nature, and no one was seriously incapacitated. Therefore, we are proud to note that Shenango Works ranks first in all plants and units of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation in per cent of "severity" at 16 per cent per thousand man hours worked—and ranked second in "frequency" rate, at 3.87 per cent per million man hours worked. This is an excellent safety record when taking into consideration the number of men employed and the nature of the material handled—sharp, red hot sheets, of considerable weight, and worked on the mills in a rapid manner. Also various hazards in all operations and maintenance.

The organization is "safety minded" and will not be satisfied until we can duplicate our safety record of 1937 when the plant went through the entire year and the preceding quarter of 1937 without a lost time accident for a grand total of 440 consecutive safe days. This record was an outstanding achievement in industrial safety, and received national recognition. Our object is to go through 1938 without a single lost time accident.

AMONG THE ASSORTERS

Everyone seems to have had a very enjoyable Christmas. After talking it over with the girls, Santa Claus evidently has been very good to all of them. So far as the New Year is concerned all are looking forward to a happy and prosperous New Year.

Two members of the assorting department with fine service records are the foreladies Mrs. Fleeger and Mrs. Parknavy. Mrs. Fleeger started at the local plant in 1910 and worked until 1915. In 1917 she went to the New Castle Works, then back to Shenango in 1919, where she has been employed continuously since that date. Mrs. Fleeger has been favored with good health as she has no lost time since 1919 due to illness. Mrs. Parknavy began her career in tin plate at the McKeesport Tin Plate Co. in 1917, working in that plant until 1924, coming to Shenango Works in 1925, where she has been employed ever since.

Mrs. Sadie Pitzer, who has been confined to her home during the holidays, is improving and we hope she will soon be back with us again.

Walter Moore, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Helen Spencik, who has been spending a few days in Detroit, is back at work.

MANAGEMENT CORPORATION FORMED FOR UNITED STATES STEEL

Supervision of the operations of most United States Steel subsidiaries was placed in the hands of a management corporation, effective January 1. The new organization known as the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware, will supervise the management of virtually all subsidiaries owned by the United States Steel Corporation of New Jersey except public service subsidiaries and railroads.

The headquarters of the management corporation are at Pittsburgh, which is a central location more convenient to the management of the subsidiaries and more closely in touch with the atmosphere of steel operations.

Benjamin F. Fairless, who was recently elected president of the United States Steel Corporation of New Jersey, is also president of the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware.

We might at this time pause for a moment and analyze the meteoric rise of this remarkable executive in the steel industry. It again repeats the splendid opportunities this great country of ours has to offer to young men who apply themselves diligently toward a definite goal in mind—regardless of their humble surroundings and birth. Mr. Fairless is the son of a former Ohio coal miner, and began his career as a civil engineer for the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad in 1913. In August of that year he became civil engineer for the Central Alloy Steel Co. He rose rapidly in that company to become vice president in charge of operations. When the United Alloy Steel Corporation and Central Alloy Steel Corporation were merged in September, 1926, Mr. Fairless was made vice president and general manager of the combined companies known as Central Alloy Steel Corporation. He became president and general manager in 1928. When the Republic Steel Corporation was formed in 1930, he was made executive vice president. In 1935 when the Carnegie Steel Co. and the Illinois Steel Co. were combined to form the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Mr. Fairless became president, thus rising in 22 years from a young surveyor to become the chief executive of the largest single steel producing concern in the world.

TIN WORKERS' FAMILY NIGHT

The boys in the plant are making elaborate preparations for a Tin Workers' Family Night to be held for tin workers and their families at King Humbert Hall, Division street, on Saturday evening, January 29, 1938.

Dave Tucker is general chairman, and from our observations, is a very busy man. Harry Davies will act in capacity of master of ceremonies, and we can rest assured that all under his supervision will flow along in a tranquil manner. Harry "Tunny" White will be in charge of the amateur show. "Tunny" knows his amateurs from mush-balls up to prima donnas, and it goes without saying that he will have a bang-up show for the customers that night. Bill "Sapho" Jones and Dave "Dy" Jones, the well known bandleaders and "Knights of the Burnt Cork," will have charge of the dancing program. Those boys know their rhythm, and you can rest assured they will have a swing band on tap that will move along in Benny Goodman style. We also have a sneaking feeling that "Dy" will have his quartet file their vocal chords for the occasion, and no doubt sweet strains of close harmony will emanate from the four corners of the hall with favorite old time and current popular melodies, also our good friend, Lew Sweet, the eminent high baritone, "ridin' high" on "Wagon Wheels."

The Carnegie-Illinois male chorus will oblige with a few selections which we have no hesitancy in saying will be rendered in a well polished and tuneful manner. This organization is rapidly forging to the front in this section and is ably directed by William Richards with excellent supporting accompaniment by Miss Mary Louise Kirkpatrick, a young and talented musician.

Valuable door prizes will be given away and for further particulars watch The New Castle News.

J. M. HUGHES

It is with deep regret we note the passing of J. M. Hughes, principal of the Lincoln-Garfield school. He was a faithful attendant at our Lincoln-Garfield school reunions, and his talks to us old "grads" were always inspiring and uplifting. He took a keen delight in following the progress of his boys' through life and was most helpful in his advice. Many of the old grads were employed in Shenango Works in both the office and plant, many of them in positions of responsibility. We will miss "J. M." at our forthcoming reunions, but his spirit of helpfulness will always remain with us. We extend to the family our heartfelt condolences.

CARNegie-ILLINOIS CHORUS

William Richards, director, requests the attendance of all sections of the Carnegie-Illinois chorus—male, female and mixed—at a rehearsal to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Sunday, January 16, at 2:30 p. m. Matters of importance will be transacted in connection with preparation for a concert to be held the latter part of this month. All members are urgently requested to attend.

THE CASUAL OBSERVER NOTES

That our visiting nurse, Miss Jeanne F. Ferguson, has been kept extremely busy over the holidays in caring for the sick. She reports four mill cases in the hospital at Christmas to whom she had the pleasure of taking each a basket of fruit. Miss Ferguson's work takes her to all sections of the city in all kinds of weather, and she is doing an excellent job.

That C. H. Rhodes, a former New Castle boy, has been appointed vice president in charge of purchases in the new management corporation, United States Steel Corporation of Delaware.

That Earl Moore, former assistant manager at Shenango Works, has been elevated to the superintendency of the Gary Steel Works.

That Miss Helen Mosely, secretary to general superintendent, is recovering and getting along nicely from recent severe arm fracture.

That Bob Brenner, order department, fractured his left leg recently while skating. We hope he has a speedy recovery.

Evangelistic Services At Mahoning Methodist Church To Close Sunday

The Mahoning M. E. church was crowded on Tuesday evening for the observance of Sunday school night in the union evangelistic services. A massed choir of over 50 voices under the direction of Homer Welch of Grove City led an inspiring period of singing.

Dr. Hamilton's wealth of illustrations drawn from four years of rich experience in this type of work drives home his messages with simple but clinching force.

Tonight will be Church Night, when the members from each of the three churches will sit in reserved sections. Dr. Hamilton will use as the subject for his message "Can You Know Now?". Thursday will be family night when an award will be presented to the largest family present and to the person representing the largest family.

Friday night will be When and Where Night and the subject will be "I Have Married a Wife, Therefore—". The services will close on Sunday with union services both in the morning and in the evening at the Methodist church.

Says Supply And Demand Will Bring
Business Return

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—The natural laws of supply and demand, and not legislative dicta, were today held out by Clem D. Johnston, vice president of the United States Chamber of Commerce as the forces which would finally prevail in the struggle to revive business.

Not until the people recognize that business recovery depends upon their own initiative and efforts, Johnston told 200 Pittsburgh business men here, would the fog of uncertainty overshadowing business be lifted.

"Legislation may be enacted," he said, "but not one of the attempts will long endure. The laws of supply and demand and of the survival of the fittest will continue to stand immutable and those who would flout them court disaster."

racy that brought this tragedy. It was fascism—American brand. The Ohio state administration, in the clutches of what many Ohioans describe as dictators, has run counter to the New Deal on every possible occasion. It has run roughshod over liberal Republicans as well as Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati. It has barely a newspaper supporter in the state. Republicans as well as Democrats plan to join hands to bring democracy (small d) back to Ohio.

Tens of thousands do walk the streets hungry because there is anti-democratic Hitlerism in power. (Herr Hitler should read the editorials in Ohio papers. At least papers still are permitted to say what they please here.)

RELIEF FAILURE

But state relief—local relief—is a tragic failure. If Big Business cried for it, because it believed President Roosevelt was indulging the unfortunate, then it will suffer for it later. Local relief is far more costly. And, if relief is cut off altogether, and people are permitted to starve, there will be neither business nor nation left.

soul—and your soul, too. In the bitterest moments it will find sweetness. In the blackest pit, it will shine strongly. Some small disappointment will send it reeling backwards. But in an hour of great grief or peril, it will tap some great reservoir of faith and courage and charge boldly ahead.

Thus it is that I do not ask the poet Henley's help . . . I KNOW I do not need him. I know that strength will come to me when I need it most sorely. I know I shall have what courage that life demands. I know that my soul that is feeble when the demand is little, will be strong enough when the requirements are great . . . And there is no man, no woman, who cannot say the same.

Celebrities Are Tilling Soil Now

Many Former Broadway Lights Have Company In Back-To-The-Soil Movement

RIPLEY PROVES GOOD SPEAKER

By O. O. MCINTYRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Ewing Galloway, the photographer, raising cattle and mules down in Kentucky, has plenty of company in his back-to-land heira. Corey Ford rarely leaves his New Hampshire acres.

Earl Carroll is toying with a get-away-from-it-all ranch in the Imperial Valley. Farming has become the chief topic among the smart talkers lurching at "No. 21" and the minked revelers at El Morocco after the play. Hendrik Van Loon spends much time gazing over his Connecticut. Mrs. Ring Lardner rarely leaves her rural residence. Dorothy Parker has her farm down in the Pocahontas section of Pennsylvania. So has George S. Kaufman. Alexander Woolcott is studying soil erosion and other agricultural perplexities at his retreat in Vermont, after completely abandoning his New York citizenship.

Frank Crumit, of the radio, has refurbished an old farm house in Ohio for himself and Julia Sanderson. Frank Sullivan wavers between a Gramercy Park flat or following the furrows near his boyhood home at Saratoga Springs. Sinclair Lewis has gone permanently rural. So it goes.

Age of specialization: Carl Crow, now the foremost authority on China and Chinese, never saw a Chink outside the local laundryman, until he was 27 years old.

The sudden oratorical ease of Robert L. Ripley over the radio and on the banquet dais is the celebrity accomplishment of the hour. Once painfully shy in facing the public, Ripley indulged many hesitations and now and then a splutter. He was about to call it a day when friends urged him to take lessons in public speaking. He devoted a year to it and now has everything under control.

Visitors to the famous Theodore Roosevelt estate at Sagamore Hill are generally astonished to find the owner had only oil lamps in his bedrooms. The Colonel lost an eye and believed lamp reading conserved his sight. After his passing, the house was wired. But for some reason the bedrooms remained horse and buggy. Incidentally, the bath towels are marked "R. O. S."—Roosevelt of Sagamore.

The old-fashioned spelling bee has been given swift tosses by the mental high steppers. Especially teams featured by Lowell Thomas. Many cocktail parties are winding up choosing sides and making desperate efforts to spell each other down. Dale Carnegie is one of the crack spellers and Homer Croy is no slouch. The big word stumbler is bedellium.

Cabaret scene: At the edge of a floor show in Harlem, a young debbie from down town was trying to appear worldly. A dainty brown-skin slid sinuously out on the floor, her initial movements suggesting the airy grace of a wayward breeze. The debbie lighted a cigaret and settled herself to view the number with lack-lustre eyes. Then, like the sudden release of a steel spring, the dancer began to "get hot", releasing a flutter of gyrations that ended in a few paroxysms spang in front of the shocked visitor. Startled, she began puffing furiously until the cigaret burned right down to her pearly teeth. And then she looked about helplessly as though she wished the floor would swallow her whole.

Not many of the town's cafe gal-lants are so ubiquitous as the natty habited cartoonist, Ham Fisher. When he visits a restaurant or night club he does a thorough-going job—not sitting at one table but practically all. In the parlance, the Ham Fishers are known as "cave flitters" and rarely stay put. Charles Beaux, the Duke of Windsor's side kick for a while anyway, was one of the gentry. And Elsa Maxwell is the most dexterous in the art among the feminine division. And by contrast there is the self-effacing Lee Shubert, who likes to drop in at night clubs but always sits obscurely in a darkened corner.

Tricks in all trades: The fussy coddler next table sent back four dishes at dinner last evening. When he departed it was inquired of the captain: "Not much profit in that check." He replied: "Don't be ridic. He doesn't know that each time he got back the same dish, just flossed up a bit differently."

Federal Narcotics Agent Paints Terrible Picture Of Effects Of Drug

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—High school boys and girls in the Pittsburgh district are falling victim to one of the most terrible drugs known to man, a federal agent testified Tuesday at a magistrate's hearing for Paul Duffy, 19, who was found unconscious in an automobile with 50 capsules of the drug in his pockets.

The agent, David L. Roush, an inspector for the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, painted a terrifying picture of the effects of the drug which usually end with complete disintegration of vital body organs.

Makes You Crazy
"It is a damned hypnotic drug," he told Magistrate A. D. Brandon. "It makes people go around on their hands and knees and claw at the walls. If you were to see them, you'd think they were crazy."

The victims usually show no visible ill effects until the heart and kidneys collapse, he said. Roush expressed belief that the drug is being bought in bordering states, chiefly in Steubenville, East Liverpool, Youngstown and other nearby Ohio cities where, he said, there is no regulation.

Government Will Inspect Landing Field At Mercer

Further Use May Be Made Of Airport Near Mercer By Federal Government

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Jan. 12.—Following a questionnaire sent to Mayor J. S. Beal which made interrogation as to the landing field for airplanes located three miles from here used by mail planes on the New York-Cleveland route that officials had been notified by the federal government that an official would be sent here soon to make an inspection.

The questionnaire was sent to Mayor Beal by the federal government. It required a listing of municipal facilities which included the landing field which is stated to be one of the best between the two cities. In the days when coming over the Alleghenies established a graveyard for wrecked fliers in western Pennsylvania this field was frequently in news and one winter when fog and sleet was worse than the average was a headquarters for newsmen.

When first instituted the field was 50 acres in extent. Later this acreage was doubled. It has an elevation of 1300 feet and clear vision landing in either direction. An air station is established there with a broadcasting facilities. Planes frequently land and it is the expectation of the future that it will become a regular stop for passenger planes. The first building ever burned in government mail service by the dropping of a flare to pick up landmarks was at this field 12 years ago when the Samuel Tait barn which flanked the 50-acre field on one side was burned. The burning building lighted the field for the landing of the airman who had lost his bearing. The field was established 18 years ago. It is intimated that if the field qualifies to government requirements after inspection it may be used as a training field.

Barbara Stanwyck Under Suspension

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12.—Barbara Stanwyck's troubles multiplied on Tuesday with the revelation the dark-haired screen star has been suspended by R. K. O. studio.

The news leaked out as Miss Stanwyck, who is expected soon to wed Robert Taylor, M-G-M adonis, was engaged in a court battle with her former husband, Frank Fay, radio and screen comic, over custody of their five-year-old adopted son, Dion.

The studio suspended Miss Stanwyck when she refused to play the lead in "Distant Fields." Her objection, it was said, was due to the fact she was required to play an aging woman, similar to her part in "Stella Dallas."

Kiwanis Club Cast Speed Rehearsals On Cathedral Show

"We're moving right along with rehearsals." "Ted" Hill, dramatic coach of the Kiwanis club's annual benefit show at the Cathedral January 20 and 21, reported today. Rehearsals are in progress in second floor rooms in the Groer building.

The title of the show, according to Mr. Hill, gives a clue to the type of fun and entertainment it contains. "Anchors Aweigh" is a rollicking, rollicking, musical funfest aboard the good ship "Kiwanis" on the high seas.
Many of New Castle's well known amateur thespians have a part in the show as well as talented town-people who are new to local audiences. Lew Pearsall, DeLace Cole, Emil Lelenko, Jack Bruce, Ed Marvin and Bill Greer are among the many men who have been assigned their roles thus far, while the Misses Charlotte Conter, Helen Wood, Nellie Brady, Billie Glenn, Elizabeth Suber, and Mrs. Jack Tresser have charge of important feminine parts.

A cast of 147 persons has thus far been assembled and the chorus which has been recruited has many voices of more than average quality.

Father Refuses To Save His Son From Chair Death

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Frank Di Stasio, 33-year-old, doomed "torch slayer," today refused to sign a paper seeking to save his son, Anthony, 26, from going to the electric chair at Charlestown state prison next week—probably Monday midnight.

"It is in the hands of God. God must decide," the elder Di Stasio told Attorney William R. Scharton, counsel for Anthony, the lawyer revealed.

Scharton said he sought to have the father sign a statement setting forth that Anthony was entirely innocent of any connection with the slaying and burning of Daniel Crowley, a laborer in May, 1935, in an insurance plot.

Frank Di Stasio was convicted of the murder and Anthony was convicted as an accessory before the fact. Both are scheduled to die in the electric chair at Charlestown state prison next week—probably Monday midnight.

Big Business Leaders Have Conference At White House

Expect Results From Conference

New Understanding Of Problems Is Believed To Have Been Reached

SLOAN SPEAKS FOR MEN AT MEETING

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A new understanding of each other's problems and a spirit of closer cooperation was expected today to evolve from President Roosevelt's momentous conference with big business leaders.

The outstanding leaders of five major industries entered the executive offices late yesterday and talked with the president for an hour and a half. The only other person present was Donald R. Richberg, general counsel and later administrator of the now invalidated NRA. Mr. Roosevelt asked him to attend the conference as his friend and adviser.

Constructive Talk.
When the conference ended and Presidential Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre personally escorted each of the callers to the door and gave them a cheery "good-bye," Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors corporation, who was spokesman for the group, issued this statement:

"We have had an interesting and constructive talk with the president. All of us agree we have a better understanding of each other's problems, out of which we are sure will come closer cooperation in meeting the difficulties of the moment."

Ernest T. Weir of Pittsburgh, board chairman of the National Steel corporation, a member of the group, told reporters:

"There is no insurmountable reason for conflict between big business and the government. If this wasn't the case, we wouldn't feel as we do—that conditions are slightly better and will continue to improve."

Besides Sloan and Weir, the other industrialists in the group were: Lewis Brown, president of the Johns-Manville company; M. W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; and Colby Chester, chairman of the board of the National Manufacturers association and president of General Foods corporation.

Dog Licenses To Expire Saturday

Owners Must Secure New Tags To Avoid Prosecutions

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—Dog owners were warned today by Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman that all present dog licenses expire January 15.

The law provides that any person owning a dog six months old or older must apply for a license. Dog licenses may be secured at the offices of county treasurers and the fees are as follows: male license, $1; female license, $2; spayed female license, $1.

The applicant also pays an additional fee of ten cents for each license which is retained by the county treasurer for his services in issuing and recording the license and reporting it to the Department of Revenue.

Dog owners failing to obtain a dog license as required by law may be subjected to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100 and costs of prosecution or imprisonment for not more than 30 days or both.

Immediately after January 15 the Department of Revenue in conjunction with the dog law enforcement division of the Department of Agriculture will start a drive against the owners of all unlicensed dogs.

"Sorry!" Said the Bishop

So exasperated was the Rev. Arthur Heber Brown (inset), Bishop of Bermuda, when he entered a shop and saw a picture of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, that he pulled it from the wall and tore it to bits. Evelyn Stowell, the shopgirl who owned the picture, pursued the Bishop to his home. His Grace said that display of the picture was "disgraceful," but apologized, nevertheless. (Central Press)

Says World We Live In Was Part Of Sun

(International News Service)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 12.—The world we live in is simply a spare part tossed off by the sun, a Princeton astronomer told students at the University of Indiana here.

Dr. Henry Norris Russell, former president of the Association for the Advancement of Science, said:
"There is great indication that the earth was formed when a molten mass of the sun's composition was cast off into space."

He explained formation of the earth's golf ball-like liquid center:
"As the new mass cooled approximately one-eighth of it, in the form of molten iron, became the earth's center."

"This liquid center was rounded off by a crust of rocks and at the surface there formed a mere veneer, some thirty miles thick."

Labor Saving Devices Are Blamed For World Dilemma

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 12.—"Science through its labor-saving devices forced the world into an economic dilemma," Waldemar Kaempffert, science editor of the New York Times told Westminister students Monday night, "and it is up to science to get us out."

Science laboratories through fascist countries, according to Kaempffert, are being told what inventions to make. Fascism comes first, scientific freedom second.

"Science and democracy must go hand in hand," the science-editor said. "If one falls, they both fall. Both collapse when deprived of individual freedom."

Universities and colleges must turn out socially-minded scientists in the future, however, Mr. Kaempffert indicated, instead of laboratory technicians. Scientists should be trained to key their efforts towards creating a better world, instead of concentrating their genius on mere creation, regardless of results.

Mr. Kaempffert is a former editor of the scientific American, and organized the Field Museum and the Museum of Science, Chicago.

Operator's License Will Only Cost $1

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—All automobile operators' licenses for 1938 will cost $1 and there will be no special charge for paid operators, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman announced today.

"The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has received numerous inquiries from all over the state asking if a special operators' license at a higher fee is necessary for professional chauffeurs, truck drivers or persons driving cars registered in other than their own names," Boardman said.

"The universal operators' license law became effective March 1, 1924 with the license fee set at $1. Several years later the fee was increased to $2, where it remained until Governor Earle called for the present reduction to $1 which becomes effective for 1938."

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Roosevelt Is Hitting Critics

Takes Occasional Digs At Enemies Without Giving Them Chance To Come Back

FEELS PRESS IS HOSTILE TO HIM

Central Press Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Roosevelt has a way of taking an occasional dig at individuals, groups or institutions, against whom or which he seems to harbor feelings of resentment, and yet doing it in such a fashion as not to make him appear to be jabbing at them, and consequently without giving them much chance to come back at him.

For example:
No one can say, definitely, that, in his recent Jackson Day address he intended to "pan" those newspapers of the present time who are critical of his own New Deal policies.

JEFFERSON ANALOGY
Discussing President Jefferson's program, the president said:

"Against him (Jefferson) were almost all the newspapers and magazines of the day. And so... his associates resorted to printing simple leaflets and pamphlets. The handful of printers and editors who helped them were harassed and arrested, with the full approval of the great papers and magazines of the day."

"This was the first effort, with the co-operation of the owners of the press, to curb the essential freedom of the press."

"It failed, just as any similar effort would fail today."

AGAIN—
Then as to President Jackson's era?

"With it (the Jacksonian opposition)," said the president, in his Jackson Day talk, "were aligned all of the nationally known press of the day, with the exception of three newspapers."

"F. D." didn't mention, in this instance, that journalistic anti-Jacksonian opposition failed, "just as any similar effort would fail today."

That, apparently, was left to be taken for granted by listeners-in; surely it was a pretty fair inference.

AN INTERPRETATION?
What the president did not, more essentially, say was this:

"Most of the press fought Jeffersonism, and the press fought Jeffersonism."

"Ditto most of the press and Jacksonianism."

"Most of the press can't lick the New Deal now."

But isn't it a fair interpretation?

F. D. R.'S VIEW
No one can prove, of course, that the present White House tenant considers the press generally hostile to him.

However, Washington correspondents widely believe that he does.

He does not say so, except, possibly, by implication. He is not explicitly quotable.

The bulk of the presidential Jackson Day address has been analyzed and reanalyzed, but its references to the press have not been much touched on, independently of its politico-economic aspects.

PREFERS RADIO?
The notion among members of the Washington correspondent corps is that the president likes the radio better than he likes his "press conferences."

The reporters' theory is that the president prefers to speak to the public at first hand, rather than through THEM. Perhaps they're jealous. Still, there's a public advantage in having their comment as his successive interviews go along.

With the radio, he has an individual advantage over Jefferson and Jackson.

Let's see what popular reactions are in modern times.

FEEL WEAK, TIRED?

NO one can fight the battles of life and hold his own if he does not feel well and "peppy." Those who feel weak and tired easily will find Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a beneficial tonic. It stimulates the appetite and increases the flow of gastric juice, thus aiding digestion, and so helps to build you up. Mr. Michael Walsh, 1928 Washington St., Scranton, Pa., writes: "I never felt like eating. I had no strength or pep and rarely felt like working. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery improved my appetite so that I really felt like eating, and that tired feeling entirely disappeared. Ask your druggist today for it in liquid or tablet form. New size, tabs. 50 cents."

New Castle Hi Trims Ellwood By Score 20-12

Strausbaugh Leads In Scoring As New Castle Takes Sectional Game

ELLWOOD PUTS UP GAME FIGHT

New Castle High School basketball team defeated Ellwood City High tonight here last night at George Washington High gym 20 to 12 in a Section Three game. It was New Castle's second league victory. Eddie Strausbaugh paced the New Castle team to its win with eight of the points.

The end of the first period found the New Castle boys out in front 5 to 2. The half ended 7 to 5. The game was fast and furious in the first two periods. Ellwood City worked the locals to end with a fast attack and close guarding in the first three sessions. Koszela, Sniezek and Nocera led the New Castles in scoring for the first half. For the visitors it was Jones and Greco that did the scoring.

The third period was just as close as the first two periods had been. It ended 11 to 10 with New Castle ahead. Nocera and Strausbaugh made the New Castle points in the third stanza. Staskik did the only scoring for Ellwood City.

Play Becomes Fast
The fourth period found both teams starting a fast attack. Strausbaugh made it 12 to 10 with a foul, and Carey made it 14 to 10 with a nice field goal. Roebuck went in for Staskik for Ellwood City. Koszela made a foul to make the count 15 to 10. Strausbaugh made another foul to make it 16 to 10. Jones made a foul for Ellwood to make the score 16 to 11. Strausbaugh made it 18 to 11 with a field goal. Koszela piled in another field goal to make it 20 to 11. The final Ellwood City point was a foul by Greco.

Carey Bridenbaugh used Marvin and Ryginski in the closing moments. Coach Jerry Newton had a swell team here last night, one of the best that Ellwood has had for sometime, and for the first three periods it looked as if the Ellwood boys would upset the locals, but that last quarter dash was a little too good for the visitors.

Strausbaugh Leads
Strausbaugh with eight points led the New Castle team. Koszela and Nocera each kicked in with four points. For the Ellwoodians the work of young Buster Staskik was the best with five of the points. Greco had three points and played a fine game at guard.
New Castle will play at Aliquippa on Friday night in another sectional contest.

TALES IN TIDBITS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—So now we have another champion who has been knocked out. Freddie Steele can compare his experiences with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis Of course Joe wasn't champion when Schmeling nudged him out of there, but he was so close to it, that winning it merely meant the formality of meeting Braddock.

The outcome probably will be a big outdoor fight in the Madison Square Garden bowl in summer, another "grudge" fight between Fred Apostoli, the knocker-out and Mister Steele, the champion and knocker. When these two meet again, the record for a gate for midweight surely will be broken. The biggest gate ever attracted by the 160-pounders stands at $375,000—and it was set when Mickey Walker fought Harry Greb.

The "grudge" angle between Apostoli and Steele and Steele, the champion was pretty well established in the minds of the fans who saw that bruising battle the other night in the Garden. You'd think the way the two fought that they spent their hours out of the ring thinking up ways to poison each other. But that isn't how it is.

The "grudge" between Steele and Apostoli is an affair between their managers. The two fighters themselves are friendly outside the ring, though they punch each other plenty when the going sounds.

Big Gate In Prospect
It seems that Larry White, manager of Apostoli, and the late Dave Miller, who made Steele the champion feuded many years ago. Miller vowed he never would give a fighter managed by White a shot at Freddie Steele. And while he lived he didn't. After his death, Eddie Miller became Freddie's manager and finally consented after three years of haranguing, importuning, publicity and defies to give Apostoli a fight, out stipulated it must be over the weight.

When Apostoli and Steele meet again, as they no doubt will because the gate for such a fight would set Steele on Easy street whether he won or not, Apostoli of course will be the favorite. But middleweights are strange people, and I wouldn't bet too much that Apostoli could repeat his smashing knockout victory over Steele, even though the champion was thoroughly beaten before the referee stopped the fracas in the ninth round.

Middleweights have a way of being inconsistent, and that went for Stanley Ketchel one of the greatest class ever had, excepting of course Bob Fitzsimmons. Back in 1908 Ketchel was knocked out by Billy Papke in 12 rounds but two months later he knocked out the Illinois Thunderbolt in 11 rounds.

For a long time the middleweights were so inconsistent that a half dozen men claimed the title—Jimmy Clabby, Frank Klaus, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, George Chip and Mike Gibbons. They were all good fighters.

Neither Steele nor Apostoli appears to be a great champion but one or the other may fool you. No bets!

NEW THRILLS! NEW SONGS!

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—Columbia university today put the chill on reports that Lou Little, head football coach of the Lions, would quit to take over the gridiron destinies of his alma mater, Pennsylvania, or any other institution.

Dr. Edward S. Elliott, director of athletics, said:
"So far as Columbia is concerned, it is expected Lou Little will remain as head football coach."

Little, however, declined to comment.

Donald Budge May Turn Pro

James J. Johnston Former Garden Matchmaker Gives Budge Fine Offer

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—James J. Johnston, former matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, Tuesday revealed a cable he had received from Don Budge, world's leading amateur tennis star, which indicates that for the first time Budge is openly considering offers to turn professional.

Johnston said he had cabled Budge an offer to turn pro, and in reply had received the following cable dated January 11, from Adelaide, Australia:

"Offer sounds good. Would like to hear more on return to states. Returning March 1. Regards." (Signed) Budge.

Johnston refused to divulge how much he had offered Budge but admitted he was eager to sign up the Californian for a professional tour. "If I can land Budge," said Johnston, "I probably will be able to line up the other pros because Budge would be the main attraction."

Recently Budge's parents, who are in moderate financial circumstances, suggested that Don feather his nest by turning pro and since then professional promoters have been hot on his trail.

Armstrong Is Favored Over Enrico Venturi

Will Meet Tonight At New York City, Armstrong Set For Ross Bout

By LAWTON CARVER

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Henry Armstrong, world featherweight champion, was a top-heavy favorite today to beat Enrico Venturi, Italian lightweight, in a non-title bout tonight, and progress from there through several warm-ups leading to a challenge for Barney Ross' welterweight crown.

Eddie Meade, Armstrong's manager, said he expected to close negotiations on Friday in a conference with Jack Kearns at Cleveland and Italian lightweight, in a non-title bout tonight, and progress from there through several warm-ups leading to a challenge for Barney Ross' welterweight crown.

Unique is the fact that Armstrong would be the first champion of the welter title, which is 147 pounds—and, moreover, many would pick him to win despite the disparity in weight.

"Little perpetual motion," as Armstrong is called, does on matches against bigger men.

Three basic elements—the Scotch-Irish, the Welsh and the Negro with the Jewish vitality, influenced the people who have given our songs. The nostalgia of the Scotch-Irish is evident. Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist gospel hymns were synchronized and "at the turn of the last century, all the gorgingness of the Jewish race was invested into negro tunes and jazz was born."

Wars have contributed their share of songs. The Revolution gave "Yankee Doodle," and the Civil war, chiefly sentimental and emotional songs. Minstrel tunes were written by Stephen Foster, with 50 of his 200 songs "motivated by mother yearning."

The gold rush of '49 brought a little different type, such as "Oh, Susanna." "America," according to the speaker, was originally a German folk song. "All our songs are derivative." "Marching Through Georgia" and "Dixie" shows the Civil war completion.

With the coming of the Italians the tempo was changed to waltz. Jews added color into the negro rhythms, and the Irish gave comedy.

Another slant was brought by the Spanish-American war with the theme song being "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." Tin-pat-alley selections were then established.

"The advent of the saxophone changed everything and out of ragtime came jazz and jazz has changed to swing time."

"When we laugh at popular songs, we must remember that it takes a degree of integrity and sincerity to be decently vulgar. Popular songs reflect the period in which we live."

Dr. Gaul continued, and then added: "We are going through an imbecile period and Hollywood and radio are contaminating us as fast as they can."

Dr. Gaul, who spoke in a very informal, columnist manner, was most casual and controversial in his comments on the radio, particularly the people who arrange the programs.

During the address, Harold Burns, Rev. A. M. Stevenson, Robert Taylor and Paul Winter accompanied by Mrs. Charles Reihl sang several selections to illustrate various types of songs. Mrs. Reihl introduced the speaker, Rev. W. E. Minter offered the invocation.

Preceding the address, the group, numbering 200, were seated at long tables and served a most delectable dinner by a capable corps of church workers. The tables were attractively decorated with flowers and lighted tapers. Members of the Golden division of the club are to be praised for the table appointments.

Members of the board of education and faculty will share the event with the seventy-two graduating seniors. Girls of the Senior B class will serve the dinner to be prepared by the church women.

For the occasion the dining room will be attractively decorated with the class colors of blue and gold.

Edward Thagott, president of the class, will be the toastmaster. Included in the program will be: Toast to Senior girls, McCallan Zeigler; toast to Senior boys, Betty Sekulski; toast to the faculty and board, Sigmond Edelman; response, Harold Caplan, and a piano solo, Miss June Curry.

Dr. Harvey Gaul Addresses Clubs

Two Hundred Attend Dinner Meeting Of Woman's Club In U. P. Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 12.—"Yankee Doodle," sung at the Boston tea party, was America's first popular song according to Dr. Harvey Gaul of Pittsburgh, renowned critic, lecturer, composer and organist, who spoke to members of the Woman's club and their guests, Kiwanis, Rotary, Business and Professional Women's club, and other interested folks, Tuesday evening in the dining room of the United Presbyterian church.

"To understand the origin of popular songs, it is necessary to review the history of America, which has the most vital songs of any country in the world," said the speaker.

New England was inhabited by Puritans and Quakers settled Pennsylvania and until the influx of the Germans, the Scotch-Irish and the Welsh, some 25 years before the Civil war, there were no popular songs.

Three basic elements—the Scotch-Irish, the Welsh and the Negro with the Jewish vitality, influenced the people who have given our songs. The nostalgia of the Scotch-Irish is evident. Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist gospel hymns were synchronized and "at the turn of the last century, all the gorgingness of the Jewish race was invested into negro tunes and jazz was born."

Rise In Costs For State Papers Set At $5,000,000 For 1938; 40 Raise Subscription Rates

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—Pennsylvania daily and weekly newspaper publishers are coming to Harrisburg, Friday and Saturday, January 14-15, for the 13th Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association to discuss ways and means of meeting expected increases in operating costs in 1938 over 1937 of approximately $5,000,000.

Of this sum upwards of $3,000,000 will go to newspaper manufacturers and the balance for larger payrolls, higher transportation costs, increased taxes and mounting charges for supplies and services, according to a report issued by the Association's headquarters here.

Drastic economies and new sources of revenue are recommended by the P. N. P. A. manager, William N. Hardy, to meet this new condition. Mr. Hardy says that the situation is more serious for newspapers than at any time in the last 10 years, due to the fact that expenses, especially payrolls and taxes, have been mounting for three years at an alarming rate.

During this same period, the report shows, the newspapers of the state have devoted annually $5,000,000 worth of space, figured at cost, to civic promotion—community chests, Christmas funds, hospital drives and the like.

It is advocated by the newspaper association that this contribution to the general welfare be continued in spite of the rising costs, and that service to readers be increased rather than decreased.

The report also shows that the newspapers gave away 3,600 pages of free commercial publicity in a single year. It is recommended that drastic cuts be made in this field.

A surprisingly large number of daily newspapers have prepared for the increased expenses by raising subscription rates, the P. N. P. A. sets forth. Twenty-five have already acted along this line and 15 more have advised the P. N. P. A. Central Office that they will do so this month. Forty dailies have raised advertising rates and more feel forced to do so, the report says.

In the weekly field, about 50 papers have raised both subscription and advertising rates. Daily newspapers which have raised subscription rates to meet the new conditions are:

Pennsylvania Spirit, Erie Dispatch-Herald, Johnstown Tribune and Democrat, Beaver Falls News-Tribune, Lock Haven Express, Reading Times, Sharon Herald, Philadelphia Inquirer, Ridgway Record, Williamsport Sun and Gazette-Bulletin, Harrisburg Telegraph, Hazleton Plain Speaker, Reading Eagle, Phoenixville Republican, Butler Eagle, Waynesboro Record, Lansford Evening Record, Norristown Times-Herald, Canonsburg Daily Notes, Philadelphia Record, Jeannette News-Dispatch, Harrisburg Patriot and Evening News, Sunbury Daily, Bloomsburg Morning Press and Berwick Enterprise.

The report of the manager comments that "even though the profitable year of 1936 was followed by a year of absent profits in many quarters, press leadership has been maintained and magnificent opportunities for publishing service have been conspicuously accepted."

Among the major topics to be discussed under the leadership of Floyd Chalfant, publisher of the Waynesboro Record-Herald, president of the P. N. P. A., will be editorial affairs, labor, legislation, advertising, costs and economies, and subscription rates.

Special programs have been prepared for the weekly-paper publishers.

ers. The Pennsylvania Women's Press Association will meet during the convention, the Associated Press will have a luncheon, and the United Press will entertain its state members.

Among the feature events of the convention will be a reception by Governor and Mrs. George H. Earle at the Executive Mansion. The sessions will close with a dinner at which the principal speaker will be William W. Mitchell of the Ford Motor Company.
